Subject: AJW Group Announces Upcoming Opening of New European Warehouse in Amsterdam

WEST SUSSEX, UK, 14th October 2025 - AJW Group, a globally renowned independent provider of aircraft component parts, repair, and supply chain solutions to the commercial, business, and defence aviation sectors, is pleased to announce the opening of its new European warehouse based in Amsterdam, Netherlands. The facility, which is scheduled to be operational in early November, represents the next step in AJW's strategy to make it even easier for customers across the European Union to access parts quickly and efficiently.

"We're opening a dedicated EU warehouse to ensure quicker, enhanced deliveries in Europe," said Scott Symington, Chief Commercial Officer at AJW Group. "By holding inventory closer to our customers, we are reducing lead times and streamlining logistics, making it more convenient for them. This expansion demonstrates our continued commitment to supporting our European partners and helping them operate without delays."

Strategically located near Amsterdam Airport Schiphol – one of Europe's busiest aviation hubs, with direct connections to nearly 300 global destinations – the warehouse is ideally positioned for efficient distribution throughout the EU. The facility will hold an extensive range of high-demand components, supporting many of the world's most widely operated Airbus and Boeing aircraft.

Scott Symington and the AJW team are sharing details of the new facility at MRO Europe in London this week, where they will discuss how the new Amsterdam site complements AJW's existing global network and will ultimately benefit operators and, in turn, the airline passengers.

The Amsterdam warehouse will draw on AJW Group's extensive global inventory and complement the world-class Maintenance, Repair, and Overhaul \(MRO\) services provided by AJW Technique in Montreal. This milestone marks another step in AJW's ongoing mission to deliver world-class supply chain solutions to its European customer base.
